Voters Turning Out Locally In Large Numbers

Morning Indications Were For Heavy Vote In City And County

DRIZZLING RAIN MAY HAVE EFFECT

Polls Close At 8 P. M.—Total Vote Cast May Exceed 35,000 In County

Typical election day weather greeted the voters of Lawrence County this morning, rain, and a falling temperature. Despite this the vote seemed to be getting out and at noon the indications pointed to a heavy total by the time the polls close tonight at eight o'clock.

The south side polls saw a rush with the opening. Cars were hauling the voters in by threes and fours and inside of the first hour the second ward precinct of the eighth ward had polled over 100 votes. The same condition prevailed in the other precincts of the ward and in the fifth ward.

IIIrd Getting Out
The hill vote north of Washington street in the second ward was turning out fairly well also. In the morning hours the precincts were averaging about 60 per hour. The second ward polls were busy the first two hours with office vote. The housewives began getting out shortly after 10 o'clock.

PA NEW OBSERVES

With the election over we can now turn our attention to Armistice Day and Thanksgiving. On the former we honor our soldiers; on the latter we return thanks to God for the many blessings we have enjoyed throughout the year. Thanksgiving isn't observed now as it was in the days of our forefathers, but there have been many other changes in customs since that time. Still, we can all be thankful for our blessings, no matter how we celebrate the day.

A Westminster college professor declares that two persons cannot live as cheaply as one. We've had a lurking suspicion that this was a lucky saying, and now we're glad to have it confirmed by such high authority as the head of an economic department. It's only when two hearts get to the melting point that they have any such illusions about the bill of fare.

Many plants still in bloom can be seen in gardens around town. This is very unusual at this season of the year. Sometimes there are hardy plants that survive frosts, but many of the plants that have been seen now are not in this class. Persons who have taken down their screen doors say that the flies are getting into their houses. The weather man has been promising a blizzard, May be he'll hit it if he keeps at it long enough.

John L. Morrison, editor of the Greenville Record-Artisan, who was in New Castle the other day, was discussing with Pa News the recent scare in New Jersey when the residents of Macy were supposed to have come down and observed that it is really surprising what people will believe. He related an incident in his newspaper career to prove it. On a desperately hot August day he said that he had once

Only Minor Election Complaints In Court

Judge W. Walter Brahm is sitting on the bench today to hear complaints from election districts. There were no persons in the court room, except the Judge, Court Clerk, Clifford Vance and Deputy Prothonotary Elmer Nosbit, when Vance made his proclamation opening court at 7 o'clock.

Minor Complaints
Soon after some complaints began to come in. They were mostly from persons who had been registered in wrong precincts. The fault was found to be generally with the person registering who had unintentionally given the wrong precinct. Where this was clearly the case Judge Brahm gave them notes to the election boards, permitting them to vote.

At the registration bureau there were many similar complaints, the telephones ringing almost constantly. Registration Clerk, Thomas Edmunds, was kept on the jump all day, answering calls arising from minor inaccuracies in registrations, due to misunderstandings of precinct lines.

WEATHER IN STATE MAY AFFECT RESULT

By WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 8.—In weather as doubtful as the election outcome itself, Pennsylvanians from an army of 4,650,000 registered voters swarmed to the polls today to settle the issues of a sensation-ridden gubernatorial campaign.

The 12-hour polling opened at 7 A. M. with party workers mustering early voters in an effort to outdistance cold and inclement weather reported moving on the state.

Political observers who placed Pennsylvania among the "doubtful" states, saw the simple prospect of sun or storm as an important factor. It could determine the size of the vote in a contest where organization strength is admittedly with the Democrats.

Total Eclipse Of Moon Visible To Many In State

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—For the first time since 1883, Pennsylvania today could talk about seeing a total eclipse of the moon.

Visible over a wide area in the Eastern United States and elsewhere, the eclipse occurred when the earth, scientists at Franklin Institute here explained, moved directly between the moon and the sun.

But for many residents the eclipse was eclipsed. Heavy clouds obscured the moon at the beginning of the phenomenon in this area.

Plan To Operate Upon Quintuplets

Will Remove Tonsils And Adenoids From Famous Babies To Prevent Colds

TORONTO SPECIALIST HAS BEEN ENGAGED

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 8.—With every known scientific device being used to safeguard them, the world-famous Dionne Quintuplets tomorrow will submit to the most noted multiple tonsillectomy in medical history.

They will have their tonsils and adenoids removed by Dr. Allan Brown, Toronto baby specialist. A staff of special nurses from Toronto will assist in the operations to be performed in the quints' nursery which has been transformed into a completely modern operating room.

The Dionne children's board of guardians has approved the surgery from which the quints, now in perfect health, are expected to recover quickly.

Dr. Allan Roy Dufoe, who brought the babies into the world, said their tonsils are in bad condition. He believes the tonsils and adenoids are responsible for the unusual number of colds suffered by the quints, and wants the operations completed before biting wintry blasts hit this northern town.

Mrs. Carrie Crawford Baldwin Killed While Crossing North Jefferson Street

DRIVER OF CAR IS EXONERATED

Witnesses Say Woman Stepped Into Path Of Machine Last Evening

Mrs. Carrie Crawford Baldwin, aged about 64, widow of Frank H. Baldwin, of 205 North Beaver street, was almost instantly killed at 7:45 o'clock Monday evening, when struck by an automobile driven by Miles Scheide mantle, aged 20, of 1035 Beckford street, just above Falls street on North Jefferson street.

According to witnesses, Mrs. Baldwin was crossing Jefferson street, from the west to the east side of the street, just a few feet above the intersection. When she got about to the middle of the street, she seemed to become confused and hesitated for a moment, after which she continued across the street and walked directly in front of Scheide mantle's car. Witnesses stated that Scheide mantle was not traveling at a high rate of speed and stopped his car immediately.

Drizzling Rain For Ohio Voters

Result In Ohio Expected To Be Exceedingly Close—Few Wagers Made

RACE FOR GOVERNOR IS NECK AND NECK

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—A drizzling rain dampened the spirits of 2,750,000 voters today who had been expected to choose between the New Deal and its most bitter critics.

So evenly was sentiment divided in the "barometer" state of Ohio that few elections bets were made and they were on an even money basis.

Conceding that Republicans have out heavily into 620,000 plurality President Roosevelt rolled up in 1936, no Democrat was willing to wager that Sen. Robert J. Bulkley, 100 per cent New Dealer would be returned to victory over his G. O. P. opponent, Robert A. Taft.

The same was true in the gubernatorial race where John W. Bricker, or has fought it out neck and neck with his Democratic opponent, Charles Sawyer, on an issue of "good government." Both claim to have the remedies for the state's financial problems. Even here the New Deal was really the major issue for Sawyer has been one of the president's staunchest supporters and the W. P. A. vote controversy has been one of the campaign highlights.

Five Million To Cast Ballots In New York State

Governor Lehman Facing Hard Battle For Re-Election From Dewey

Farley Claims 250,000 Edge While Republican Forecasts Win By 268,000

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—New York's electorate decides today between Governor H. Lehman, Democratic governor for three terms, and the man he did much to elect to national prominence, youthful Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican gubernatorial nominee.

Rain Is Falling
Despite claims of substantial victories by leaders of both parties, the closest balloting since Franklin D. Roosevelt emerged winner in 1928 by a 25,000 plurality was expected. With mixed weather prevailing, five million voters were expected to be cast between 5 a. m. and 6 p. m. (EST).

A light rain began falling shortly after nine o'clock this morning and, one hour later, was not only continuing but increasing to a steady downpour. Later the rain ceased and the sun came out.

Claims Conflict
Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley stood by his prediction of a 250,000 plurality for Lehman who is seeking his fourth term, this time for a four-year period. Before departing to vote in his home town of Utica, Republican State Chairman William Murray reiterated his forecast of a victory for Dewey, 36-year-old district attorney of New York city, by a 268,000 plurality.

Forty Million Voters In Trek To Polls Today

Close Elections In Vital States Are Conceded By Both Parties

REPUBLICANS ARE MOST HOPEFUL

Believe That Overwhelming Victories For Democrats Will Come To End

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—An off-year political campaign that waxed hot only in its closing stages came to an end today with the trek of nearly 40,000,000 voters to ballot boxes.

By midnight they will have determined the make-up of the 75th congress, the political complexion of 32 state governments, and filled thousands of lesser offices in county and municipal governments.

Hidden beneath this avalanche of votes will be that which the politicians of both major parties most earnestly seek—a indication of the trend for 1940 when a president is to be elected.

Most Unusual
In many respects, this 1938 election is one of the most unusual in many years. There is little question concerning Democratic victory—in the sense that both houses of congress will remain overwhelmingly Democratic as they now are. The Republicans do not even pretend that they can regain the control that they lost in 1930.

But the Republicans do admit, and seek strategy for, the easy succession of Democratic landslides, begun in 1930 and continued in ever-increasing crescendo through 1932, 1934, and 1936, is at an end. The Republicans believe, and most Democrats concede it off the record, that the political pendulum is swinging away from eight straight years of reverse in one direction.

G. O. P. Is Hopeful
If the Republicans do win back forty or fifty seats in the house and representatives, five or six seats in the senate, and elect a half-dozen governors—half of which is possible—then they will feel they are on the come-back trail. Stimulated and rejuvenated by such a victory, they will decide if they intend (Continued On Page Two)

Heavy Fighting Has Developed

Both Government And Insurgent Forces Announce Gains Have Been Made

CLAIM SCHOOL IS BOMBED BY PLANES

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish border, Nov. 8.—Heavy fighting raged in the northern Catalan battle-areas today as government forces pushed a new offensive near the Segre river while the insurgents announced their troops had captured vital Mora De Ebro.

Occupation of the government stronghold of Mora De Ebro was claimed after days of violent fighting, during which insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco hurled his mechanized forces relentlessly against the key village of the Ebro river front.

In the fighting to the north, the Spanish government at Barcelona declared its militiamen had captured the town of Soles and crossed the Segre river.

Hundreds Captured
Hundreds of insurgent troops were taken prisoner in heavy fighting around the towns of Ayacu and Sero, according to the government.

Still another government column launched a heavy counter-attack 10 miles from Lerida.

Meanwhile, at Salamanca, an official insurgent communique claimed that government planes bombed a school at Cabra, Cordova Province, killing 87 persons and wounding 117.

The communique threatened reprisals for "crimes of this nature." An insurgent Spanish press service dispatched termed the dead and injured "innocent victims."

It won't be long now until some of those who have been occupying the anxious seat will be at the mourner's bench. The ballot is so short that we ought to have a good idea how the election is going by midnight. However as it looks now there are going to be some very close contests, and we may not know for sure until tomorrow evening.

Here's a thought regarding new industries. If a big community chest fund can be raised, there is no reason why new industries can't be financed by local capital. The money is here, and there are plenty of citizens who will invest if it can be shown that the proposition has a reasonable chance of success. It is not a lack of capital, but a lack of ideas, that is needed.

will start immediately to organize for 1940 behind those candidates who have demonstrated their ability to win votes and influence people.

Today's elections are being held in 47 states, Maine having elected in September.

But it is upon two states principally—New York and Ohio—that the party warlocks have their eyes fastened. This is largely due to the pivotal character of the states, their large vote in the electoral college, the number of presidents they have sent to Washington in the past, and the personalities involved.

Two years ago, in 1936, President Roosevelt carried the Democratic ticket to a million vote victory in his native state. In Ohio, the Democratic plurality was in excess of 600,000.

Stiffest Opposition
Yet in these two states today, the Republicans are furnishing the stiffest sort of opposition. Indeed, the Republicans are claiming them both, and the Democrats concede them to be close.

In New York, a youthful, hard-hitting Republican district attorney, Thomas E. Dewey, has amazed the politicians by giving Gov. Herbert H. Lehman the fight of his political life. He has the Democrats really worried, and it is not improbable that the issue may be decided by 200,000 votes, which is a tight fit where five million votes are being cast.

Jim Farley is not as beaming as of yore in this state. His last-minute prediction is that it will be Lehman by 250,000, but there are many who disagree with him, notwithstanding his uncanny predictions in past elections.

Republicans claim Dewey's election by approximately the same figure which is further indication of the tightness of the race. And if any further evidence were needed the newspaper polls supply it. Two of them indicate Dewey by a small majority. Another indicates Lehman by the margin of an eye-lash.

"Very Close"
In Ohio, both sides concede it is "very close" between Senator Robert J. Bulkley and his Republican opponent, Robert A. Taft, bearer of a distinguished Republican name and, if he wins, a certain factor to be reckoned with when they start making up a national ticket two years hence.

Some Republicans, in fact, have already started dreaming of a Dewey-Taft state (or vice versa) in 1940. Both are relatively young in politics, and they answer the Republican cry since 1936 for "new faces" and younger leadership.

But New York and Ohio are not the only spots where the Republicans hope to make gains. They are fairly confident in Pennsylvania where mud-slinging reached a new all-time high in this campaign. They believe they have good prospects in Massachusetts, where ex-Gov. James M. Curley is opposed by youngist Republican Leverett Saltonstall for the governorship; in Rhode Island, where another famous name has been put on the Republican ticket for governor, William K. Vanderbilt, in Connecticut and New Hampshire, and perhaps in New Jersey.

Democrats Are Plagued
In the grain-belt states, the Democrats are plagued, and the Republicans correspondingly encouraged by the slump in the prices for farm commodities, and the grumbling of the farmers over the acreage allotments of the new farm act.

Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin are regarded with hopeful anticipation by the Republicans. Also Michigan, where the New Deal governor, Frank Murphy, is being pushed to the utmost by the man whom he defeated two years ago, ex-Gov. Frank Fitzgerald. Twice in recent weeks, President Roosevelt has come to the aid of Murphy, by defending his hardening of the sit-down strikes of last year.

In the far west, chief interest centers in California, where the Democrats have a real chance to gain control of the state government by the election of Gilbert Olson as governor. Democratic registration in California is more than 200,000 ahead of the Republican registration.

In a number of states, various advanced types of old age pension plans will be decided today, too, including California's famous "Thirty Dollars Every Thursday" plan. To some degree it might be said also that the question of President Roosevelt's running for a third term is involved in today's balloting.

Mr. Roosevelt has never indicated whether he plans to stand for reelection in 1940. Jim Farley, his intimates he doesn't know himself, that he has never discussed the matter with him.

But unquestionably, if the New Deal receives a substantial setback today, if Mr. Roosevelt loses his own state of New York, it would be a blow to his prestige calculated to end the third term speculation.

Mr. Roosevelt is voting today and will scan the results tonight at his Hudson river home. The returns that he will scan closest are those from New York.

To Relieve BABY'S HEAD COLD

Misery

DO THIS: Massage his throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub and tuck him into bed. Next, put a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water; place a newspaper or sheet over the child's head like a tent, covering the bowl too, so the medicated vapors can be inhaled for several minutes. This treatment loosens phlegm—clears air-passages—checks tendency to cough—relieves local congestion. Long after he relaxes into peaceful sleep, VapoRub's poultice and vapor action is still bringing relief—and you can get a good night's rest too.

kind also imposes one on the pocketbook to see to it that no more wars occur. For it is a fact generally recognized that costly without comparison as is the loss of life and health and the suffering that are part of war, there follows in its wake a series of economic disturbances and discomforts and losses with which the immediately present generation is battling.

During the twenty years that have passed since the first Armistice Day, amazing things have happened. The great tragedy is that the world is filling up with causes of "another war."
More money is being spent on armaments today than before.
Obviously there are festering international troubles.

In the light of the day's memories of suffering and anguish these things are difficult to believe. Apart from that they are challenges to the peace-loving men and women of all lands to pool their efforts in a mighty movement to suppress dictatorial influence in the U. S.

A MAN DEFIANT AT FOUR-SCORE

Life begins at 81 for E. G. House of Pocatello, Idaho. He celebrated this birthday by taking his first piano lesson, and hopes presently to be sitting down to the piano with nobody laughing.

It sometimes happens that an elderly person becomes an economic burden on his family or friends, often not his own fault, but there should be no reason for him to be a spiritual liability. If a man or woman of sixty, seventy, eighty or ninety takes up study of music, painting, a foreign language or any other worthwhile activity to keep the mind occupied, it's an idea to encourage.

SAFETY IN AIR IS INCREASING

That the zeal for aviation safety among those who design aircraft equals, even if it does not surpass, the solicitude of plane pilots themselves, has been demonstrated anew at a National Aircraft Production meeting in Los Angeles. Figures quoted by experts there should convince the most insistently land-bound. J. A. Herlihy of United Air Lines pointed out that there was only one passenger fatality per 16,296,423 passenger-miles flown in this country from 1933 to 1938.

The engineers who supervise construction of today's planes, which every month increase their safety record factor, have a right to feel —and at meetings like this to express—self-approval of their handiwork.
Meanwhile the modernized content of men versus machines goes on,
with absolute lack of any danger in the air as the nearing objective, and it is not necessarily a discredit to men that machines they devise and fly seem more trustworthy than they.

DRIVING SUGGESTIONS WHEN WINTER COMES

From Evanston, recognized by safety authorities as the safest city in the world, comes "Winter's Seven Safety Suggestions" for motorists.

Judge Harry H. Porter, chief justice of municipal court and president of the Safe Winter Driving League, listed practical safety measures for coming blizzards as follows:

1. Test brakes for simultaneous gripping.
2. Check condition of windshield wiper, defroster and tire chains.
3. Travel at less than moderate speeds on snow or ice covered highways or city streets and watch for children on sleds.
4. Shift into second gear for more gradual braking on snow or ice, particularly if not safeguarded by tire chains.
5. Take curves slowly and don't try to pass cars ahead of you on hills or curves. Descend steep hills in second gear if icy.
6. Apply brakes with clutch engaged and before you ordinarily would in dry weather—and don't depend on your horn because other car windows may be closed and some drivers especially in country wear ear muffs.
7. Exercise greater caution generally and open car windows occasionally to prevent windows fogging up and, in old cars, possible danger from carbon monoxide gas.

Remember: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

The Evanston safety record includes only one traffic death this year, and three times winning of the National Safety Council's award as "the safest city." It is the home of Northwestern University's Institute of Traffic Safety which instructs police and public officials of numerous states in modern safety and traffic.

The Parent Problem

RECOGNIZE YOUNGSTERS' RIGHTS

Sally seized the big, sharp-pointed scissors. They were bright and wonderful, and they were Sally's too, because she had them in her hands. Mother had left them on the chair when she had gone to the back room. On her return she saw Sally steadying her wobbly little body with her left hand while she held the open scissors, point upward, in her right.

Terror seized the mother and she seized the scissors. The child objected, screamed, stamped her feet and held as tightly to the precious scissors as she could.

Taught Her Nothing

Three months passed by and Sally learned to walk alone, and run. One day she found the paring knife near the edge of the kitchen table. She saw her mother coming. Sally ran, her mother running after her. The poor child fell, but, as luck had it, no injury was done. Sally was so small and weak, and mother was so big and strong! Two times a day, ten times a day was little Sally forced into surrendering something which she had set her heart on as her own. But every time she struggled valiantly. She had a reason; she was defending what was dear to her.

What a baby holds within her grasp is hers. Her right to its possession is about as dear to her as are our rights to what we call our property.

Ask Her For It

Recognize her rights. Don't force an object from her grasp. Ask her for it. Make her choose to give it up. Wait until she hands it to you.
When she does, thank her most generously. If she is not likely to respond to a mere request, offer some thing attractive in exchange. Keep calm, be patient. Take all the time necessary to get results. If you so treat the infant of 12 months, you can lead her happily to give up any thing, and lay the foundation for co-operative obedience.

It may seem to take considerable time at first, but the way to save time when we deal with babies is to seem to lose it; the way to lose time is to seem to save it. When we persuade a little child to give up an object without resistance we are helping make it easy for her to give up like objects in the future. If we force from her a dangerous thing, we are helping make dangerous things henceforth more hazardous.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

"SAVE THE RUTLAND"

While railroad executives, railroad union men and the government of the United States are worried concerning the fate of the railroads, worrying about the cost of transportation and about the wages of labor, a four hundred mile piece of railroad in the State of Vermont is in danger of being entirely abandoned.

The Rutland Railroad which runs for four hundred miles through upper New York State and the Green Mountains of Vermont to its final terminus in Montreal, is so threatened. It no longer has sufficient income to meet its fuel bills, pay its labor, and in July of this year appeared to be destined to be the first complete railroad in the United States to disappear because of truck competition.

The merchants and business men,
however, along the line of the Rutland have taken very unusual methods to keep it in operation. While railroad officials have been asleep and permitted truck competition to become so keen, nevertheless trucks cannot carry all of the freight.
There is much freight which it would be out of the question for trucks to even attempt to handle.

The abandonment of the Rutland would mean a great loss to the business men of the area. When the railroad was used to meet the bonds in July, the railroad was disintegrated. Then the business men started a campaign. Accompanied by the fanfare and ballyhoo of parades, speeches and advertising, the citizens of this area served by the railroad started the "Save the Rutland" campaign in an effort to raise the money to defray expenses of a program to secure continued operation of the railroad.

It is only going to show what a determined people can accomplish in the face of all the jealousies and wolfishness of conflicting interests.

These days when a member of a

Elections Lack Early-Day Fire Candidates Worn Out In Primary Republicans Hope Lie In Future

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—

In certain spots this has been a red hot pre-election campaign. Generally speaking, however, the post-primary fighting has not been very sensational. The fact is that most of the congressional candidates and their followers were themselves to a frazzle and used up nearly all their ammunition in the nominating contests. Since then they have been too tired to scrap except rather languidly. Also they have suffered from a shortage of fresh political projectiles to hurl at one another.
Another thing that has made the combat pretty tame is the fact its outcome can't conceivably make much difference, as between the two major parties. By no possibility could the Republicans have gained control of the Senate, even if they won every Senate seat at stake
this year—a ridiculous supposition.
Nor has the G. O. P. itself hoped to attain better than about a 1-to-2 representation in the lower congressional chamber.

The Democratic campaign committee has conceded that the Republicans probably would score a few gains, which are usual, in mid-administration years against the nationally dominant party. The Democratic committee has allowed for perhaps one or two more representatives in the next Congress, and maybe twenty more Republican representatives—a mere bagatelle, in the circumstances. The Republican committee has claimed three or four new senators and up to eighty new representatives. Perhaps a fair compromise guess should have been two or three more Republican senators and up to forty more Republican representatives.

AS TO THE FUTURE
Fulfillment of G. O. P. claims must be regarded as Republicanly somewhat encouraging, with a modicum of promise for 1940. Politicians should see it so, but not necessarily the average voter, with the Democrats still in an enormous congressional majority—though a somewhat shrunken one.

It doesn't follow, either, that a credible Democratic showing should be accepted as satisfactory to the Roosevelt administration. It actly who, or what party has won.

STATE RESULTS AN ITEM

How the state fights come out will be significant.

Federal appointive "paps" counts heavily.

Nevertheless, a governor has a lot of jobs to hand out. If he wins, even against the federal government, his state-wide patronage makes him a power factor.

These considerations make this a crucial election, even after the votes have been counted. You don't know exactly who, or what party has won.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

If our memory serves, Senator Smith Brookhart, of Iowa came in for a lot of spoofing when, with our entry into the World War, he proposed to recruit and equip a rifle brigade of old-fashioned backwoods American sharpshooters. An outfit of Daniel Boones, no matter how brave and how accurate with a squirrel gun wouldn't figure much in a machine-age war, and you might just as well turn Boy Scouts loose with pop-guns. So Senator Brookhart was told, along with many other homespun Americans who thought that all we needed to do was to revert to pioneer tradition, take down the old musket from over the fireplace and stop the enemy with his tracks. William J. Bryan probably had something like that in mind when he talked about "1,000,000 men springing to arms overnight." That was the kind of arms you "sprang to."

Senator Brookhart, a demonstrator sharpshooter himself and proud of his rifle score, never knew he was likened and now it appears that he wasn't. Our post-graduate laboratory wars here and there around the world, are proving up to the hilt the high military value of effective small arms, and of accuracy and skill in their use. Most important to us is the development of the new Garand army rifle, first tested two years ago and now being supplied in steadily increasing quantities to our troops. It shoots 30 shots a minute, weighs only nine pounds, the weight of the old army Springfield, and has greater range and accuracy than any other rifle. An automatic gas chambers injects and ejects cartridges which are the standard 30 caliber of the Springfield. The recoil is less than in the old rifle.

Perhaps still more important is the fact that it is effective against low-flying aircraft. It has been generous in rigorous tests against phosphorus bombs and found unquestionably a punishing weapon against air attack. Planes have to fly for any effective "strafing" of troops. According to all reports, the Garand rifle is the first light, mobile and altogether promising weapon against them, for use in the field, where it would be impossible quickly to assemble a sufficient quantity of standard and anti-aircraft equipment.

It may sound pretty far-fetched to read any implications of democracy into any kind of war whatsoever, but somehow a Daniel Boone war fought by tradition seems to be more in our temperament than the conventional push-button, juggernaut, conveyor-belt systems, which were supposed to have revolutionized modern warfare—but didn't. Many of our country's sons, some of their former pacifists and now not inclined to prepare themselves for about the effect of adequate arm-ment and defense organizations on our institutions. They fear it would militarize the country. That is something worth thinking about.

We never have had a military

FIELD CLUB HOSTESS NAMED FOR WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Jesse Gibson will preside as hostess Wednesday afternoon at the New Castle Field Club, when the women members gather to share in one of their series of dessert-bridge parties.

Play will begin at 1:15 p. m., and prizes will be awarded at the close of the contests, to those winning honor scores. The serving of dessert will precede this feature.

HONORARY SCIENCE GROUP DINNER MEET

Most enjoyable in every detail was the gathering of the Honorary Science Society of State Teachers College, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dean on the Harlanburg road, on Monday evening.

The occasion was in the form of a six o'clock chicken dinner, the delicious menu being served at attractively appointed tables. The autumnal motif predominated throughout, and places marked for twenty-eight.

Following, Dr. T. J. Smith, of State Teachers College, was introduced as guest speaker. His subject dealt with "Bird Photography" and provided especially interesting as well as instructive. He illustrated with a number of colorful pictures. As a special guest, the group had J. F. Janis of Indiana, Pa.

An informal social period brought the evening to a close.

RAINBOW ADVISORY BOARD WILL MEET

Members of the Rainbow advisory board will be entertained in the home of Miss Martha Bigley on Milton street Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

She will have as co-hosts Mrs. P. H. Bridenbaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodwin.

Beacon Class Meeting
Ladies of the Beacon Bible class of the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle in East New Castle had their November meeting in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Clark, Eighth street, Mahoningtown, with an attendance of 21 members.

It was decided during the business meeting to give $5 to the tabernacle to help with the expense of wiring the new building. The ladies also planned for the personnel workers, who do visitation work, to place Bibles in the homes where there are no Bibles.

Mrs. John Beckius was in charge of the games. Then to top off the evening program there was a shower of handkerchiefs for the following members: Mrs. Blanche Zeigler, Mrs. Sarah Dadds, Mrs. Frank Campbell, Mrs. William Munnell and Mrs. Victoria Leonhart, in celebration of their birthdays. SILVER COFFEE AT SECOND U. P. SUCCESS

One of the leading events of the social season for the Second U. P. church, was the silver coffee held recently in the church assembly rooms, which attracted guests numbering upwards of 125.

Following, a life "Scrap Book" with living pictures being portrayed of the past and present, with members participating, was a highlight. The scenes dealt with historic periods, etc. Those sharing included the following: Mrs. Lavonia Thompson, Mrs. Charles Strittmatter, Mrs. Reid Weimer, Miss Wanda Hanna, Mrs. I. W. Garro-way, Mrs. George Hanna, Mrs. Robert Cauthers, Mrs. Robert Estep, Mrs. A. E. Kerr, Miss Shirrel Hinkson, Miss Lavonia Campbell and Mrs. G. V. Campbell.

In conclusion, coffee and refreshments were served at long tables seating a group of eighteen or more. The autumnal motif was used in the appointments throughout. A silver offering was taken afterwards.

Transfusion For German Diplomat

One Bullet Is Removed
From Body of Wounded
Diplomat, Shot In Paris

GUN WIELDER IS HELD BY POLICE

(International News Service)
PARIS, Nov. 8.—Ernst Von Rath, third secretary of the German embassy here, who was shot and seriously wounded by Herschel Grynsztan, German-born Pole of Jewish extraction, underwent a blood transfusion today. His condition is grave.

Meantime police probed into the past associations and all other available facts about Grynsztan searching for light on the motive of his attempt on the life of the German official.

A formal request that police permit a German representative to be present during examination of the 17-year-old Polish Jewish youth was refused by French authorities, and there were reports the German embassy was considering a protest.

Criminal Matter
So far, however, the case, in which Grynsztan sent two bullets into the body of Von Rath, has been handled purely as a criminal matter and has been left entirely to the Surete National.

With one of the bullets removed by an operation, Von Rath remained in serious condition. Both French and German government officials were kept advised of his progress. He was shot down inside the embassy by the youth, who shouted:

"I want to take revenge upon you for the sufferings your countrymen have caused my fellow Jews." Grynsztan, a native of Hanover, Germany, was described by the German embassy as a "fanatic acting in behalf of Jewish propagandists in France."

Football Ends Quit School At Auburn

(International News Service)
AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 8.—Denied the opportunity of rejoining the team before next season, Staniel Whitley and Max Harrison, Stellar ends on Auburn's football squad who "walked out" last week when Coach Meagher "hurt our feelings," left school again today.

The boys returned to school yesterday and sought the opportunity of rejoining the team, explaining that "we figured we were wrong."

After discussing the matter with the other school officials, Coach Meagher ruled that both boys would be given an opportunity to adjust themselves and then rejoin the team next year.

When informed of the ruling, however, both "decided to leave school," according to Elmer G. Salter, publicity director who announced the coach's ruling and the decision of the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Lowellville, O., R. D. 1, are patients in the Jameson Memorial hospital, the former suffering from an injury to his spine and Mrs. Moore with cuts and bruises, because of an auto accident at 11 a. m. yesterday at the intersection of the New Wilmington and Pulaski roads, where routes 468 and 18 join.

It was reported by the State Motor police that the Moore car came from the Pulaski road and collided with one driven by Eli Kurtz, 5433 Diamond street, Philadelphia. Moore's car overturned, it was reported.

Of Your Children

CHILDREN PLAY A NECESSARY

PART OF HIS WELL-BEING

Parents do well to recognize early that children love to play, and encourage them in this. At first the child, of necessity, plays with his own body. He waves his arms and legs in apparently involuntary gestures. He puts his fingers, yes, often a whole hand, in his mouth. When he can catch hold of anything, he seems to have strength enough in his hands to bear his own weight.

So if the baby won't lie still, if he braces his feet against the foot of his crib, and pushes his body back and forth, don't worry. He's just playing, getting his exercise. I remember when the quintuplets were very small they would lie for hours and play with their fingers and toes. As they get older, Cecile and Yvonne succeeded in putting their toes in their mouths. But the others were never able to imitate them at this. Such playing should be kept under observation as much as possible.

Not that the parent should interfere very often, but just to see that the child doesn't twist into an uncomfortable position. Don't interfere with the child's movements any more than you have to.

A great place for children to play and get exercise is in the bath tub. Until the quintuplets were three and a half months old they were never in a bath tub. The only bathing they got until that time was with oil. But when they did get into the tub they had a great time splashing about. We used to put them in two at a time, with the nurse keeping an eye on them, and how they loved it! We kept getting larger and larger tubs until by the time they were five months old they had graduated to a regular tub.

As I have told you, we bathed them two at a time. This left one quint to be bathed by herself, and we always chose Marie for this role. We did it with the best of intentions. She was the weakest and needed the most attention. But even at that early age she detected favoritism. Why should she be in that big tub all by herself day after day, when her sisters had company? So she fretted over it and protested as well as she could. It was quite a while before we found out what was the matter. Then we treated her the same as the others, and she was a different baby at all times.

As children develop and are able to crawl around, they crawl and crawl, apparently just going around for the fun of it. The same is true when they first learn to walk. Nature demands activity from these small children; puppies are the same.

We found a great thing for giving the children their exercise. It is called a playground gym. It really is nothing but a rack, or a sturdy wooden framework six feet high and about five feet square. The children climb all over this, swing by their hands. They literally spend hours on it.

Too high for children, you say; well, the quintuplets have been climbing over it since they were a year and a half old, and not one of them has been hurt on it yet. Of course, they are under constant watch.

King And Queen Accept Invitation To Make Visit To U. S.

Definite Plans Will Be Decided

Temporary White House Gives Out Announcement Of Acceptance Of Invitation

WILL COME DURING SUMMER OF 1939

(International News Service)
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 8.—King George and Queen Elizabeth have accepted an invitation from President Roosevelt to visit the United States next summer in connection with their tour of Canada, the temporary White House announced today.

"The president is very happy to know that the king and queen of Great Britain hope to be able to accept his invitation to visit the United States next summer," declared a formal announcement. "While no definite plans have been made, it is expected that their majesties will be able to stay in this country for four or five days."

Informal word from London some days ago outlined an itinerary in Washington for the royal couple which included a stay at the White House and a state dinner, a reception at the Capitol and a ball at the White House in honor of President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

The London Dispatch said the king and queen would bring their stay in the States to a close by witnessing a fleet review off Hampton Roads.

Movie Stars Are Planning Fewer Pictures In Year

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright 1938)
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8.—The movement among top flight film players to limit their work is gaining momentum daily. Experience is teaching them they are better off physically and financially at the end of the year if they appear in fewer pictures. Income taxes cut in deeply for one point.
Loretta Young and Gloria Stewart, both of 20th Century-Fox, and Jean Blondell, of Warners, probably will make no more than three pictures a year after January 1.
Carole Lombard is appearing in only one picture this year after making $400,000 on three last year and paying a mighty chunk of it to the government. Next year she probably will do two.
William Powell will limit his picture work to one a year in the future, but he'll probably get $150,000 for that one, the same figure the studios are more than happy to pay to Lombard per picture.
Constance Bennett is another star who has only one picture commitment for 1939, that with Universal. She's made only three this year. Sometimes she goes more than a year without appearing before the camera. She won't take a role unless she likes it.
Another who is very picky and choosy about his roles and makes very few pictures—all of them box office successes—is Ronald Colman. Harold Lloyd made his first picture in 2 years last spring and has no plans for another in the immediate future, his studio informs this reporter.
The artist who appears the least on the screen is, of course, Charlie Chaplin. His last picture, "Modern Times," was released in 1936. There are persistent reports he plans another soon but no one knows just when.

City Ministers Convene Monday

Plan Chinese Relief Luncheon; Make Tentative Thanksgiving Plans

PITTSBURGH MAN IS GUEST SPEAKER

Red Cross, Community Chest, Chinese relief, peace, Thanksgiving and the matters brought before the clergymen of New Castle at their semi-monthly meeting Monday in the First Presbyterian church.

Yesterday's meeting was opened by President H. A. McCurdy. Dr. Frank S. Neigh was the devotional leader, and Rev. J. L. Pettie, a guest from Jamestown, N. Y., well known in New Castle, played the piano for the singing. Two new ministers, Rev. Paul Millard, of the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church, and Rev. D. I. Schaeffer, of the Princeton Memorial and Mt. Herman Presbyterian churches, were introduced to the association.

Miss Margaret Bodenstein, executive secretary of the local Red Cross, told of the parade of Red Cross juniors on Saturday and the opening of the roll call on Sunday. The ministers pledged their support. Dr. G. S. Bennett reported on the offering received from the church people on Community Chest Sunday.

Rev. E. G. Russell, of the program committee, presented the speaker of the day, Rev. D. H. Elliott, D. D., of the Central Pittsburgh R. P. church, who delivered an interesting address on "Scotland's Answer to Totalitarianism."
Rabbi Norman Diamond announced a peace meeting for November 22 in Temple Israel.
A committee comprised of Revs. C. H. Heaton, Ross T. Williams and C. T. R. Yeates, was appointed to arrange for a noon service November 16 in the Y. W. C. A. in the interest of Chinese relief. A Chinese speaker will be heard.
Thanksgiving will be observed by the New Castle churches much the same as in former years. There will be union services in downtown, East Side, South Side and Mahoningtown churches.
In two weeks the ministerium will convene again, this time to hear an address by Rev. D. J. Blasdel, of the Mahoning M. E. church, on the subject, "Do We Need a Program of Religious Education?"

Annual Dinner At King Humbert Hall Is Well Attended

King Humbert hall was the scene of a happy event on Monday evening, when the women members of the King Humbert Auxiliary held their third annual spaghetti dinner and dance, with over 600 in attendance.

A tempting spaghetti dinner was served from 5:30 until 8:30. For this event the tables were gayly decorated with fresh flowers, donated by Mrs. Lena Cialella. The corsages worn by the committee were donated by Mrs. Rose Zona.

During the course of dinner Josephine Mazzei, Anthony Frasso, Sam Aiello, Louis Costa and John Bertolino favored the group with a few musical selections.

Dancing began at nine o'clock, with the music furnished by a local orchestra. The vocal selections were rendered by Eleanor Fair. An added feature of the evening were the old folk dances performed by the older members of the auxiliary.

Following, Anthony Costa spoke a few words of welcome to the large group, and later distributed boxes of candy to the musical entertainers. The president of the men's lodge, Raymond Peluso, gave a brief summary of the history of the organization. Debutane Season Is In Full Swing Money Pouring Out

By JANE COCHRAN
International News Service Staff
New Castle, Pa.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The debutane season is now in full swing with the current debutante group making their bows to New York society. And, financially speaking, these bows are shimmering ones to the family purses.

Bills totaling about $6,500 will roll in at the first of the month for a simple yet swank ball for 500 guests. The program, breast of debutante and lobster newberg at the supper, the bill will only total $5,000.

The hundred guests may meet the debutante at a tea dance for about $1,500 and 200 guests may admire her grace and beauty while partaking of excellent food at a dinner with the check reaching the modest sum of only $2,000.

Enormous Cost
Socially correct as these affairs may be, bills for the really important debut may amount to $50,000 and reach a high point in the social season.

Prohibition repeal has been a boon to proud fathers as the Waldorf-Astoria and other fashionable hotels now charge no rent for the use of their ballrooms, providing that the supper served is not too simple.

A not-too-simple supper consists of a hot bouillabaisse newberg, South American quail or breast of guinea hen, prepared with grapes, a dainty salad, and a fancy desert and the modest fee of from $3 to $5 a guest is charged.

Hotels, however, charge a rental of about $300 if the supper is simple, assembled eggs, sausages, milk or punch.

Champagne is the preferred beverage at balls and between 20 and 30 cases at approximately $80 a case will be consumed during the evening.

Flowers are essential as a decorative scheme with a nice display of chrysanthemums and autumn leaves enriching the florist by $300. Orchid festoons of rare blossoms used ornamentally may better suit the whim of the hostess and she will pay $5,000 for use of their beauty and fragrance.

Two Swing Bands
Two orchestras are essential to keep the guests dancing continuously and they will furnish their music at $500 or $1,000 apiece.

No debut is important unless the right people attend, so invitations must be sent at a minimum cost of $5 per hundred. To see that only those possessing these invitations partake of the hospitality, two social secretaries will check the lists at the door for $10 each. Arriving guests will be announced for $10 and breakfast, at 4 o'clock, will be served for $1 or $1.50 a guest.

However important these background effects may be, it is the debutante herself who is the center of attraction and she must appear in a gown that will bring a shower of compliments. . . no small matter of expense at any countercovers.

October Proves Dry, Warm Month

Excess Of Temperature And Deficiency Of Moisture
Are Noted

October's weather proved unusually bright, with temperatures exceeding the normal, and rainfall far below the average set by the experience of previous years.

The figures compiled by U. S. Weather Observer E. J. Johnson, show the mean maximum temperature was 71.1 degrees, the mean minimum, 38.5 degrees, and the mean, 54.8 degrees. The highest temperature was 85 degrees on October 12, and the lowest was 25 degrees on the seventh and thirty-first. The greatest daily range was 44 degrees on the eighteenth.

The normal temperature for the month is 52.3 degrees, an excess over the normal of 2.5 degrees being shown. In October of 1937, the daily mean was 2.9 degrees below the average.

This October showed precipitation of but one inch, and the greatest amount in 24 hours was .18 inches on the twenty-first and twenty-fourth. Days with .01 inches or more of precipitation were 13, days clear, 18; partly cloudy, 7, and cloudy 6.

The normal precipitation for October is 2.80 inches, the deficiency being 1.8 inches. Last year, there was an excess of .74 inches during the month. Curiously enough, while the mean maximum temperature was far above last year's figure, and above the normal, the mean minimum was lower than last year. Had the nights been a little warmer, more of a difference would have been shown.

Mickie Rubin Wins From Owen Wills

Seven Knockdowns, Three Technical Kayoes Registered In Arena

CHAMBERS AND FERARR WIN

Last night was punch night in The Arena, seven knockdowns having been staged and three technical kayoes registered in the weekly offering of the Jefferson A. C. In the spotlight battle of the Evening's Session, Mickie Rubin, galloping South Side light-heavyweight, defeated Owen Wills, colored, 175-pounder of Pittsburgh. Rubin had Wills down for counts of seven and nine in the final round. However, the going sounded ending the bout before he could land a lethal dose.

The Pittsburgher was on the receiving end for the greater portion of the first two chapters. Time and again he suffered agonizing left hooks to the body while he retaliated clearly but ineffectively with a right to the body which he would follow up with a right hook to Rubin's head.

Going into the third Rubin had a fat margin, and craftily turned southpaw. However, this style apparently suited Wills who turned "side-car" and threw rights at Mickie's head which landed during the first portion of the last stanza. Rubin was wild in this round.

Finally, a left hook to Wills' body forced his knees to buckle and he staggered back. Instantly Rubin was upon him like a tiger. He threw a dozen lefts to the body and Wills went down on the ropes but was up at the count of seven.

Mickie rushed like a bull to gore a wounded man and landed another left to the body that again sent the colored lad down on the ropes. He pulled himself up at the count of nine but was on the receiving end enough to suffer a knockout when the final bell sounded.

Rubin was attired in a beautiful red robe that was presented him by South Side admirers and last night's visitors add to those over George Segerman, Joe Biro and Joe Papeski, all of whom he has beaten by either a knockout or a technical knockout.

Vicious Fight
The next bout of importance and that which capped the Five Points prize cash gift was between Jack Sawyer of Niles and Nick Cottage of Salem at 160 pounds. They fought as nearly like catmen as would be able to unearth anywhere. Sawyer won the decision.

During the first two rounds they stood flat-footed and threw punches at the head, stomach and body. Sawyer had an edge. In the third Cottage covered considerably, was floored for a count of three and was taking a beating when the final gong ended the set.

Armed and Covelli's loss, lost to Oscar Wright, colored, 134 of Pittsburgh when Referee Tom McMahon sensibly stopped the bout at the end of the second round and awarded a technical knockout to Wright. Covelli suffered a long, deep gash beneath one of his eyes.

Up to the time McMahon stopped the bout Covelli had the best of the fighting. Time and again he shot lefts that were dynamite and rights that tantalized his husky opponent.

Wright did his most effective work when he worked Covelli against the ropes. However, the volleys were few and far between and apparently had no weakening effect on Covelli. They were not sufficient to give Wright an even break.

Just before Wright rushed Covelli to the ropes near the end of the second round a blow struck Covelli beneath an eye causing a long and deep laceration. When the round ended McMahon acted despite the objections of Covelli and his handlers. The wound required three clamps.

After being floored twice in the second round of the opening bout, Referee McMahon awarded a technical knockout to Joe Janovic of Salem over Steve Misko of Princeton. The first round was fast with a shade in Misko's favor. They fought at 145 pounds.

Bessemer Boxer Loses
Frankie Clark of Bessemer lost to Blackie Ferrar of New Castle by a technical knockout over Francis Clark of Bessemer in the second round. Clark's style bothered Ferrar when the bout started but he floored Clark for a count of four with a right to the chin.

Clark got up and was battling back when another right landed on his chin just as the bell sounded and down he went in his own corner. He sustained a cut above an eye. The referee stopped the bout and it counts as ended in the second because round one was over.

Back Chambers of West Pittsburgh decided George Swatwille of this city at 160 pounds. He took the first two rounds. There was considerably clinching in this fight. In the second Chambers drew blood from "Swat's" nose which was adorned with adhesive tape in the third chapter.

Mickie Kabias of Niles and Tommy Dalmayle of Salem, at 160, fought a nice bout. Kabias had an edge throughout. He apparently was too ringwise for Tommy. When the judges cast their vote after the fight gave their opinion differed and the referee gave the award to Kabias.

Sonny Horne of Niles and Tony Plagel of Salem, 140 pounders fought hard but did not do much damage except to wind themselves. However, they tried and it would not have taken much to have knocked out either in the third round. Horne forced the bout and won the decision.

A large crowd was present. Tom McMahon was the referee. The judges were Joe Frank and Johnny Jennings. Carl Ciarella watched the timepiece. Charles Walters announced the show. Arch Coma represented the state and Ed Fritz the A. A. U.

Mike Raffa and Smokey Robinson will occupy the spotlight role next Monday.

Koppel Fans Are Awaiting Battle

The football fans of Koppel, Pa. are eagerly awaiting the Lockley and Koppel Mud Divers grid battle next Sunday at the Koppel field. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock. Coach John Rubels is drilling his "Locks" hard this week in preparation for the tussle. The Mud Divers have one of the best teams in this district and have been together for a number of years.

The Lockleys are enjoying their first season together and according to Business Manager Robert M. Young, the locals are going to upset the dope bucket Sunday and knock the frosting off of the Koppel cake.

Basketball To Be Discussed At "Y" Tonight

Formation of a fast eight-team City Basketball league will be the topic of discussion tonight at the "Y" at 8 o'clock as Franklin R. Crisel, president of the league will preside over a session attended by the various team managers.

Mr. Crisel would like to have the following teams send their representatives to the meeting: Gersons, N. Y. A. Keystones, Polish Falcons, K. Pulaskis, Wabash Bears, Union Civics, Gus' Pants, Lem's, and Brown Bombers.

Workouts will start very shortly at the Arena floor. Johnny Uram, will draw up the schedule of games for the league just as soon as it is finally determined how many teams will comprise the league. Mr. Crisel would like very much to have the Falcons and K. Pulaskis join the league, and make it a fast ten-team league.

The league will open the 1933-34 season shortly after the first of December, it was announced. Player lists and other important matters will be discussed at the meeting tonight and it is imperative that all managers attend.

Keystones And Bears Prepare For Grid Game

Will Battle Sunday For City Championship, Look For Close Game

The Keystone A. C. football team under the watchful eye of Coach Tobo Penati, is working out daily at Rotary field in preparation for the championship game Sunday with the Wabash Bears of the Seventh Ward.

The location of the game is unknown at yet, although Frankie Crisel, president of the New Castle Football League, is making a strong effort to obtain the fine Union high or Scotland Lane field for the game Sunday instead of the E. & A. field in order that the fans can have bleacher seats.

Is Ideal Field
The Scotland Lane field will be ideal if matters can be adjusted, otherwise the game will be played at the E. & A. field.

Coaches Blackie Adamo and Domenick are working hard with the Bears this week. The Bears will be fighting mad this week over the setback given them two weeks ago by the Keys.

The game will be a benefit for the injured players of both teams, among the injured are: Nick Albert, Jake Regna and Ray Micaletti. It is hoped that enough money can be secured to take care of the expenses of these boys.

Mr. Crisel has appointed Johnny Uram as field marshal for the game Sunday and Mr. Uram will in turn appoint several assistants to handle the crowd and to look after the collections.

East Bowl Game Being Arranged

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A syndicate today commenced negotiations for an East Bowl charity football game to be held either at the Polo Grounds or the Yankee Stadium on December 10.

It is planned to make the game, pitting an eastern team against a stand-out eleven of another section, an annual affair which may in time rival the Rose Bowl.

Overnight Sports

(International News Service)
San Saeed, who shot a practice round of 80, ruled a favorite as a field of 80 star golfers teed off today in quest of $3,000 in prizes in the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., open tournament.

A bilateral agreement between the western and Pacific coast conferences to make the Rose Bowl football game a closed series between the two organizations is reaching a status of possibility. The proposal, already acceptable to the Pacific coast, will be introduced at a meeting of Big Ten directors of athletics on December 2.

Meanwhile, in New York a syndicate was negotiating for an East Bowl charity game to be played at the Polo Grounds or Yankee Stadium on December 10. In this contest, which might rival the Rose Bowl in time, it is planned to pit an eastern team against a stand-out eleven of another section.

During the 1933 season there were more than 15,000,000 paid admissions to minor league baseball games. This represented an increase of approximately 2,000,000 over 1932.

Charles S. Howard, owner of Sea-huscutt, has decided to give the conqueror of War Admiral a rest, and the horse may not race again until the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap in February.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Sport nuggets . . . New Castle high's "Red Hurricane" scored 60 points on home soil compared to 65 for the five opponents. There's considerable chatter about the coming Bessemer-Ellwood City high game at Ellwood City November 19. To date the Cement City club is the lone undefeated and untied aggregation in Lawrence county.

That New Castle Boosters basketball team is going to be a corker from what we hear. The roster sports the names of such floor wizards as John Uram, Joe Kelley, Blackie Nocera, Emil Grommes, Bus Strausbaugh, Pop Adams, Tom Carey and a few other former stars of Ne-Ca-Hi. Lawrence county's Class B schools start their Section 20 W. P. I. A. L. battle on December 16. Bessemer, East Brook, Mt. Jackson, Shenango, Union township, Wampum and West Williamson comprise this loop.

Gridiron short stories . . . Saturday's week-end football parade was a honey—to the tune of better than three G's here alone. In Pittsburgh two points fanned the "dream club" and went down for something better than $25,000. The major unbeaten and untied list is down to Texas Tech, Notre Dame, Western Reserve, Santa Clara, Oklahoma, Texas Christian, Tennessee, Iowa State, Duke and Dartmouth. It took Uram exactly 65 years to pin back the ears of Princeton and 19 years for Purdue to dump Ohio State. Saturday was a day of upsets and a day of history making.

After perusing scores of Saturday's games we can't understand why collegiate coaches don't spend more time developing a field goal kicker. A team which boasts a kicker who can zip the ball between the up-rights is blessed with a major attack. Alabama can thank Bradford for his 17-yard boot in the last quarter, giving the Crimson Tide a 3-0 edge over Tulane. Fordham called Sub Wilbur "One Play" Stanton to try his luck from the 32. His toe did it over St. Mary's, 3-0. Manlio Boverini left the substitutes bench long enough to lift a field goal which gave Manhattan a 3-0 margin over N. C. State.

Joe Pasqua, S. M. U. sub, pulled the prize of the day, splitting the up-rights from the 45, giving the Mustangs a 10-7 margin over Texas A. and M., as the clock clicked off the final 30 seconds. In the last 50 seconds Jack Schuchle, Rice's fullback, sailed one between the "H" for a 3-0 victory over Arkansas. Bill "Never Miss" Daddio got his weekly field goal against Carnegie Tech to give the Pitties a 10-7 edge which they held for a while. Springfield College thumped Baldwin-Wallace, 9-6, thanks to Joe Baruno, a guard. Texas took an early lead through this medium. J. C. Smith eked out a 3-0 win against Bluefield Inst., with a pretty field goal. Other successful boots from the field were recorded by Haskell, Wayne U. and Bowling Green. Collegiate pilots will no doubt realize the importance of a good field goal kicker and add this mode of attack to the repertoire of plays.

We did fair and middlin in our weekly game of "park and pray." Those field of field goals split open our percentage. For the season we called the turn 194 times in 241 battles, excluding 13 ties. Our best average is still close to the 800 margin.

Oh, yes, about Saturday—31 out of 41. Selah! Selah!

Notre Dame Is Standout Team

Of Entire Unbeaten List Irish Standout Prominently, Play Tough Card

DARTMOUTH IS BEST IN LAST

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Casting about today for some place to pin vagrant hopes, anticipation and an occasional buck or two, eastern football circles found no difficulty in agreeing that, with the dissipation of the Pittsburgh myth, this section has nothing of consequence to offer in the national football championship race. Thus were all eyes leveled finally in the general direction of the mid-west, where Notre Dame's Ramblers are rambling and rolling again as of old.

Gradually, the thing is shaping up again as another Notre Dame year after a long drought, although few if any, will come right out and say it, their reluctance being based on the fact that the Ramblers still must hurdle Minnesota, Northwestern and Southern California. From the way things have been going for other major teams, the Ramblers have no real assurance that they could hurdle even the four Marx Brothers.

Many Strong Teams
Upsets have been so numerous and so utterly astounding week after week that so eminent an authority as Coach Lou Little of Columbia publicly has characterized this season as the greatest in history. There are many strong teams, but also many so close to the leaders that the latter have the very top of the ladder knocking over the fence.

So, inasmuch as Minnesota, Northwestern and Southern California each has been beaten only one time, it would cause no great reverberations if any one of this trio should upset the Ramblers and spoil what to date is a perfect record that includes victories over Kansas, Georgia Tech, Illinois, Carnegie Tech, Army and Navy.

While the Ramblers make up only one of more than a score of eleven still unbeaten and untied, their position is enhanced—until further notice—by the fact that such contenders as Dartmouth, Tennessee, Texas Christian and Duke are playing comparatively restricted schedules. They are not playing setups exactly, but neither are they taking on the toughest.

Thiel To Play At Slippery Rock

State Teachers To End Home Season With Contest On Saturday

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Nov. 8.—One of the foremost football clashes in the district will take place in the Slippery Rock stadium on Saturday of this week when the Thiel eleven comes here for the Rockets' last home game of the season.

There will be no overconfidence on either side at the opening kickoff next Saturday for both Thiel and Slippery Rock suffered unexpected upsets last week end. The Cortland (N. Y.) Dragons in a surprising aerial attack, subdued the Rockets 13-7, after the Thompsonmen had compiled an enviable series of wins over Grove City, Westminister, Indiana and Slippery Rock. Thiel, too, had its homecoming day spoiled when the Allegheny Gators took a 7-0 victory at Brenville last Saturday afternoon and outplayed and outmarched their opponents to a net 210 yards to Allegheny's 130.

The Rocket backfield this season has a stellar quartet of ball-toters in Messer, Johnny Kaufman, Higgs, Schmidt, Bill Temple, Hanna and Gross, all of whom will see service Saturday against Thiel's Breckenridge, Clark, McKersy and Snyder. A capacity crowd is expected here to witness the fray.

Jesse Moore Is High In Shoot

Jesse Moore with a 193 string led the New Castle 3 to Club last night in its practice shoot at the Cathedral range. Second high went to Leo W. Hill with a 191 string.

There will be a match shoot in the Penn-Ohio rifle league this week for the local club, it was announced. The results: Jesse Moore 193, Hill 191, Washington 196, Hockmeyer 189, Gardner 189, Perry 178, Patterson 187, Cooper 174, Kilbreath 171, Blythe 166, Gilich 145, McKeeown 184, Eleanor Crawford 189.

Rose Bowl May Ignore East In Picking Teams

Believe Pacific And Western Conferences Will Monopolize Selections

PLAN MEETING WITH MUCH FAVOR

By FRANCIS J. POWERS
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—A bilateral agreement between the western and Pacific coast conferences to make the Rose Bowl football game a closed series between the two organizations is reaching a status of probability.

The proposal, already acceptable to the Pacific coast, will be introduced at the meeting of Big Ten directors of athletics here, December 2, and in turn submitted to the faculty conference committee, which has the final vote. A close but favorable vote is anticipated although play may not start until 1940.

Work On Agreement
The two conferences have been definitely working toward an agreement on the Rose Bowl for several years. The Pacific coast is in close agreement with the Big Ten on eligibility rules and each year there has been an increasing exchange of football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis and golf matches in season.

This fall there have been four inter-conference football games; several basketball games are scheduled for this winter and the track meet is an annual fixture. The Pacific coast is keen for such an agreement since it automatically would eliminate the confusion in picking the opponent for its championship from an increasingly small number of choices. Although the plan would rule out eastern and southern teams the annual appearance of the Big Ten champion in Southern California, where twenty-five per cent of the population has its roots in the midwest, would lend a new pitch of interest to the game.

The fact that the Rose Bowl game is managed by the Pacific coast conference has done much to eliminate objections of the Big Ten to that particular post-season contest. Further the even balance of competition in the western conference precludes the probability of any one school monopolizing Rose Bowl appearances.

Look At Finances
Western conference leaders are not unmindful of the financial returns of the Rose Bowl game, that annually approximate a gross of $100,000. Since most of the Big Ten schools have indifference of stadiums, field houses or other athletic properties, an occasional share of the Rose Bowl game would be a convenient lift.

A closed Rose Bowl game would be an advantage to the sugar cotton and orange bowls, since they then would be able to secure the champions of other sections for their winter classics. All three of the Southern games have been retarded by inability to always secure outstanding teams but with the Pasadena gates closed could present attractions that would increase both the prestige and gates of their shows.

DIAMOND CUTTERS BUSY
Optimism over coming world prosperity is indicated by the return to work of 200 diamond cutters in Johannesburg, South Africa, center of world diamond mining. They expect to handle at least $2,500,000 worth of diamonds in the next six months.

Mrs. Poorly "They say that getting phony is just a routine matter."

Penn State Makes Ready For Penn

(Special To The News)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 8.—Following a tradition that Philadelphia boys play their best game of the season on Franklin field, Coach Bob Higgins has announced that Harry Harrison and Tony Giannantonio, senior backs, would be in the starting lineup for Penn State when the Lions meet Pennsylvania this Saturday.

Harrison, who will captain the Blue and White against the Quakers, has borne out this legend in both of his previous appearances against the Red and Blue. Two seasons back he ran a kickoff 94 yards for a touchdown, and last year he tossed a forward pass to Wendy Wear for the only score of the game.

The former West Philadelphia and Brown Penn athlete will start either at quarterback or right half-back taking the place of Chuck Peters or Craig White, both sophomores, who ordinarily are in the lineup at the kickoff.

A free land is one that uses public money to feed school who scheme to destroy freedom.

Will Ride Train
The New Castle High team will ride the railcars this week, being scheduled to board the Pennsylvania Railroad football special train at the west side depot at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The team will be led on the train enroute to the Ohio River coast.

Faculty Manager Norman Scoot's Nelson will be in charge of the New Castle football party on the special train. In the party will be Head Coach Phil Bredenbaugh, and his capable assistants William "Bill" Klee, George "Gus" Thomas and Paul Cuba. There will be about 50 in the New Castle High special football team coach on board the train.

Playground Project Committee Meeting Held Monday Evening

Old Country Club Site Being Rapidly Turned Into Playground; Committee Enthusiastic

Residents of the Croton district and East Side in general, are getting up a lot of enthusiasm in a project that should concern other residents in the city, to promote the same in their localities — a public playground, where children and grown ups as well, can find diversion the year around, in safety.

Last night, the Old Country Club house was the scene of a committee meeting, composed of a group of interested parties who met semi-weekly, in the temporary club building. President James Snow was in charge.

A splendid program was outlined for the winter, and an ideal center for ice skating will be found at this particular playground this winter. The project is almost completed, and it will accommodate a large number of skaters. In addition, the use of flood lights will make night ice skating a real treat.

The children of the vicinity, the boys in particular, last night had on display in the club house, a collection of hand carved pebble holders, bird houses, and other novelties. This work has been accomplished under the direction of Messrs. Robert Hunter and Carmen, instructors, who have taken a keen interest in the promotion of the Old Country Club Playground activities.

It was announced, the committee will hold business meetings on the first and third Monday nights of each month at 7:30 o'clock, in the club rooms. It is urged, that anyone not already included in the group work, who is interested, be present on these dates.

Anyone desiring to make a contribution, can do so by getting in touch with Mrs. Louis Schetrom, 223 Scott street, or any one of the following committee: President, James Snow, secretary and treasurer, Oliver McCann. Directors are Sid Lockley, Mr. McCune, Andy McElroy, Delbert H. Porter, Mr. Schetrom, Mr. Snow and Mr. McCann.
